North Carolina · written against MVR-1 (Rev 04/26), issued under N.C. General Statute 20-52 and 20-73

</forms/north-carolina/mvr-1-title-application/>

The buyer's application for a North Carolina certificate of title, and the sheet a licence plate agency works from. It is one page that does four jobs at once: it applies for the title, asks for a plate, declares every lien on the vehicle, and certifies that liability insurance is in force. It also has to be signed in front of a notary, which is the part people arrive without.

This sheet is not the form. Download the blank MVR-1 from the North Carolina Division of Motor Vehicles at <https://www.ncdot.gov/dmv/downloads/Documents/MVR-1.pdf> — always take the current revision from the agency rather than a copy. Print this and keep it beside you while you complete theirs.

Every line, in the order you meet it

1	BUYER	The check blocks	Title and License Plate for a car that will be driven, with a class of licence written on the line underneath. Watch out: Title Only is for a vehicle not in operation and Inoperable Vehicle is narrower still — it describes a car substantially disassembled and unfit or unsafe to be operated on the highway.
2	BUYER	Vehicle section	Year, make, body style, series model, VIN, fuel type and odometer reading, taken from the assigned certificate. Watch out: Body style is the Division's two-letter abbreviation rather than a word — SW for a station wagon, 4S for a four-door, TK for a truck. NCDMV lists the acceptable codes on the MVR-92A.
3	YOU	Odometer reading	Whole miles, matching the figure you wrote in the odometer window on the back of the title. Watch out: Two documents with two different readings on them is a mileage discrepancy in NCDMV's eyes, and it brands the record. Copy the number, do not recall it.
4	BUYER	Owner ID number and full legal name	The buyer's driver licence number and their full legal name with any suffix. Watch out: Full legal name means what the licence says. A shortened first name here and the full one on the identification is a mismatch the agent has to resolve at the counter.
5	BUYER	Joint Tenants with Rights of Survivorship	A yes/no pair, answered by joint applicants only. Watch out: For one buyer the answer is No. For two, this single box decides what happens to the vehicle when one of them dies, and it cannot be added later without a fresh application.
6	BUYER	Tax county	The county the vehicle will be based in, on the vehicle location line. Watch out: NCDMV collects the county vehicle property tax with the registration, so this line has a price attached to it. It is the buyer's county, not the one where the paperwork is being filed.
7	BUYER	Insurance company and policy number	A company authorised in N.C. and the policy number, under the Financial Security Act certification. Watch out: The certification is signed for the date of the application. A policy that starts the following Monday does not satisfy it.
8	BUYER	From whom purchased	The purchase date, and the seller's name and address — this is the only line on the form that mentions you. Watch out: Whether the vehicle was purchased new or used is a separate tick beside it, and a private sale is always used, however few miles are on it.
9	BUYER	Owner's signature	Signed in ink by each owner or an authorised representative of a firm or corporation, then date, county and state. Watch out: Signed in the notary's presence. The certificate underneath states that the person named personally appeared, which makes a signature added beforehand a defective one.
10	BUYER	The notary block	Names of the principals, the notary's signature and printed name, the seal and the commission expiry date. Watch out: A licence plate agency will take the acknowledgment over the counter for the fee NCDMV publishes, which is usually cheaper than finding a notary separately and always faster.

What gets this one rejected

- An unsigned notary block. The application must be notarised, and the licence plate agency cannot process it without one.
- A missing tax county. It is the line that decides which county assesses the vehicle property tax collected with the registration.
- Ticking the survivorship Yes box for a single owner. The question exists for joint applicants and NCDMV publishes a separate affidavit for adding it.
- Leaving the lien section blank when a lender is being recorded. The certification signed at the foot states the vehicle is subject to the liens named and no others.
- No insurance company authorised in N.C. A policy from an insurer not licensed here does not satisfy the Financial Security Act certification printed above the signature.
- Odometer reading with tenths, or a reading that does not match the one written on the certificate of title.
