H. Salvage Title Important Information

Pursuant to the Rhode Island Salvage Law (RIGL § 31-46), you are required to apply for a salvage certificate of title for a vehicle within twenty (20) days. "Any person, firm or corporation who violates any of the provisions of this chapter shall be guilty of a felony and shall be punished by imprisonment for not more than five (5) years or a fine of not more than five-thousand dollars ($5,000) or both." If you have retained ownership and possession of a vehicle originally deemed a total loss by an insurance company, the following documents and fees must be submitted when the OWNER of the vehicle is applying for a Rhode Island Salvage Certificate.

1. Salvage application shall be completed by the owner who is listed on the face of the existing Rhode Island title certificate
2. Existing Rhode Island title is in owner's name.
3. A letter from the insurance company stating that the vehicle is a total loss and the owner is retaining the vehicle AND indicating Class A (parts only) or Class B (repairable) classification.
4. Written estimate/appraisal of the damage from the insurance company.

How to fill out TR-2/TR-9 — Application for Title for Vehicles

sellmycarhub.com

Rhode Island · written against TR-2/TR-9 (Rev 11/2025), issued under R.I. Gen. Laws § 31-3.1-38 and § 31-3.1-11

/forms/rhode-island/tr2-tr9-application-for-title/

Rhode Island's one title application, and the form that answers this state's own peculiar question: what to sign when the car has never had a certificate. Seven transaction types share it, and the header prices all of them the same - fee is $53.50 for any transaction. ADD TITLE is the one that matters to somebody selling an older car, because until 1 January 2024 Rhode Island issued no titles at all for model years before 2001, and thousands of those cars are still on the road.

This sheet is not the form. Download the blank TR-2/TR-9 from the Rhode Island Division of Motor Vehicles at <https://dmv.ri.gov/media/866/download?f=ri-tr2-tr9.pdf> — always take the current revision from the agency rather than a copy. Print this and keep it beside you while you complete theirs.

Every line, in the order you meet it

1	YOU	Tick one transaction, and read what it asks for	Each tick prints its own section list beside it. ADD TITLE calls for A, B, C, D, E and I; DUPLICATE TITLE/AFFIDAVIT OF LOSS calls for A, B, C, D, E, F and I. Watch out: The lists are not the same and the Research Office works to them. Ticking ADD TITLE and then filling in section F, or ticking DUPLICATE and leaving F blank, is the commonest way to have the packet sent back.
2	YOU	Section A, whoever is standing at the counter	Signature, printed name, an AGENT OF line, and the identification number of the person submitting the documents. Watch out: This is not the same as section B. If a relative is dropping the packet off for you, their details go here and yours go in B - and if they are signing anything on your behalf they need the notarised Limited Power of Attorney as well.
3	YOU	Section B, the owner as the record already knows you	Name, licence or Rhode Island identification number, date of birth, telephone, email, residence address and a mailing address if it differs. Watch out: Match the registration you are producing as proof of ownership. A first title is built from that record, and a name that has changed since needs to be resolved before the certificate is printed rather than after.
4	YOU	Section C, every field of the vehicle block	Year, vehicle identification number, gross vehicle weight, make, model, body type, colour, cylinders, seat belts, pickup bed and fuel type. Watch out: The heading says complete all fields and means it. Gross vehicle weight is on the VIN plate in the driver's door jamb, and on an older car the label can be faded to the point of illegibility - check it before you are sitting in the car park.
5	YOU	Section D, the odometer reading	The figure in whole miles, then a signature, a printed name and a date underneath it. Watch out: No tenths, and no exempt box exists. If the dial has rolled past its own maximum, the first qualifying tick is the one that says so; if you simply cannot vouch for the number, the second one brands the record.
6	YOU	Section E, only if there is a live loan	Lienholder name, date of lien and address. It carries an asterisk because it is conditional. Watch out: Leave it blank on a car you own outright. Writing in a lender whose loan was settled years ago puts a lien on a brand-new certificate and costs another $53.50 to take off.
7	YOU	Section F, the duplicate declaration	One tick from lost, stolen, destroyed or illegible/mutilated - and only on a duplicate application. Watch out: An illegible or mutilated certificate has to travel with the form, and the note asks for an explanation of the circumstances with it. Do not throw the damaged one away.
8	DEALER	Section G, which is not yours	The dealer recipient affidavit, for a duplicate that will be posted to a dealership because the car has been sold or traded to it. Watch out: It is a private residence or the dealership, not both, and it needs the dealership's self-addressed envelope and a copy of the registered owner's licence photograph. A private seller ticks nothing here.
9	YOU	Section I, sign and answer the consent question	A declaration under penalty of perjury that no other liens exist, a yes or no on disclosure of your personal information, then signature and date. Watch out: The consent question is about your motor vehicle record being released to somebody who asks for it, and it has nothing to do with the sale. Answer it deliberately rather than ticking through.
10	OTHER	The notary, on a duplicate only	Signature, printed name and a commission expiration date marked mandatory. Watch out: A Rhode Island notary's stamp has to be ink. An embossed seal on its own is refused, and so is a notary block with the printed name missing.

What gets this one rejected

- A duplicate application that is not notarised. The instructions on the form give it two separate numbered lines: owner(s) signatures must be notarized, and notary public must sign and print name - if either is omitted, the application will not be accepted.
- A duplicate where one of two named owners has not signed. If the original title listed more than one owner, all owners listed must sign the duplicate title application.
- A duplicate on a vehicle that has ever carried a loan, without an original release of lien. Faxed or photocopied releases will not be accepted, and a loan contract stamped paid is not accepted as a release of lien.
- A notary seal that is embossed rather than inked. The form prints the rule above the notary line: if RI NOTARY, STAMP MUST BE INK AND NOT EMBOSSED.
- A dealership's address written into the owner block on a duplicate. Automobile dealerships must not use their address or any address other than the owner's on the application for a duplicate.
- A duplicate for a vehicle that is not currently titled in Rhode Island. The DMV's Titles page limits it: duplicate titles can only be issued to active RI titled vehicles.
- A missing commission expiration date. The form marks it MANDATORY in capitals under both of its notary blocks.
