How to fill out Form 1001 — Motor Vehicle/Boat Title & Registration Application

South Dakota · written against Form 1001 (no revision printed), issued under South Dakota Department of Revenue, Motor Vehicle Division, presented to the county treasurer under SDCL 32-3-18

[sellmycarhub.com
/forms/south-dakota/motor-vehicle-boat-title-registration-application/](https://sellmycarhub.com/forms/south-dakota/motor-vehicle-boat-title-registration-application/)

This is the buyer's form, and it is on this list because a South Dakota seller hands it over, watches it get filled in wrong, and inherits the delay. Two pages: page one identifies the vehicle and the people going onto the new title, page two computes the tax and the fees and carries the signatures. The department's own list of the five commonest titling errors starts with no signature on application or title, and its guidance for a private-party purchase names this form first - the DOR website provides you with the Motor Vehicle Title and Registration Application to fill out, print and sign.

This sheet is not the form. Download the blank Form 1001 from the South Dakota Department of Revenue, Motor Vehicle Division at <https://sddor.seamlessdocs.com/f/1001?f=1001.pdf> — always take the current revision from the agency rather than a copy. Print this and keep it beside you while you complete theirs.

Every line, in the order you meet it

1	BUYER	Application request: Motor Vehicle, Title Transfer	Two ticks at the top of page one. Eight request types are printed and a private sale of a South Dakota car is the first of them. Watch out: Out-of-State Title Transfer is a different tick with different paperwork behind it. A South Dakota certificate assigned to a South Dakota buyer is a plain title transfer.
2	BUYER	The vehicle, from the certificate	VIN, year, make, model, colours, body type, weight and fuel type, copied off the title rather than off the car. Watch out: The Previous State/Brand box is where an out-of-state brand lands. The manual notes that out-of-state title brands are displayed on all titles in the previous state field.
3	BUYER	The odometer entry	Reading, unit and one of the three odometer brands. It repeats what the assignment on the back of the title already carries. Watch out: It must match the assignment. A reading that disagrees with the one the seller disclosed is a discrepancy the county has to resolve before it can issue anything.
4	BUYER	Owner information, with the type of ownership	Name, type of ownership, customer type and identification number for each person going onto the title. Watch out: The type of ownership box is the one that matters years later. It is the word between two names that decides whether one signature or two can sell the car next time.
5	BUYER	Purchase price on line 1	What was paid, from the bill of sale, less any trade-in allowance on line 2, giving the difference on line 3. Watch out: Tick Bill of Sale not available/NADA only if there genuinely is not one. It moves the tax base to the industry guide value, which on most cars is higher than the price.
6	BUYER	The 4% tax and the printed fees	Line 4 is 4% of line 3 for a vehicle. Line 7 is pre-printed as Title Fee + Tech Fee $12.00; line 8 is the late fee if the application is past forty-five days. Watch out: Penalty and interest on line 5 are calculated from the purchase date regardless of when the application is made - so a delayed application is charged as though the tax had been due all along.
7	BUYER	Lienholder block, if they borrowed	Name and address of the first and second lienholder, and $10 for each lien noted. Watch out: Once a lien is noted, no paper title is printed at all until it is released. A buyer expecting a document in the post will not get one.
8	BUYER	The Unsworn Declaration	Every person going onto the title prints and signs, with a date and a place. The declaration is made under penalty of perjury under the law of South Dakota. Watch out: No notary is needed and none is offered. What is needed is every signature - the department's first common error is a missing one, and a mailed application with a blank line comes straight back.

What gets this one rejected

- An unsigned application. It heads the department's own list of common titling errors, and it is the reason a mailed application comes back rather than a title going out.
- A missing lien. Another of the department's five: lien not put on application when noted on title for new buyer. The county cannot invent it from the certificate.
- An owner block with no type of ownership. The connector between two names decides who has to sign the next assignment, and leaving it empty means the department reads it as and.
- An identification number left out. The manual requires the South Dakota driver's licence or social security number of each purchaser, with a federal employer identification number for a company.
- A purchase price with no bill of sale behind it. The tick marked Bill of Sale not available/NADA is what the county uses when there is none, and it moves the tax onto the guide value.
- Filing it in the wrong county. The application must be filed in the county of the new applicant's residence.
