The form that changes a name or a lien on a certificate that already exists, without a sale happening. A Vermont seller meets it in two ways: adding or removing a co-owner before listing the car, which is what the Add and Delete ticks are for, and refinancing, which is what the notice of a security interest at the foot is for. It carries the department's clearest published fee arithmetic - $56.00 to add or delete a name and add a lien, $76.00 if the registration has to be corrected as well - and one instruction people miss until it costs them a second trip: changing a name on the title requires the same change on the registration.

This sheet is not the form. Download the blank VT-019 from the Vermont Department of Motor Vehicles, Agency of Transportation at https://dmv.vermont.gov/sites/dmv/files/documents/VT-019-Title_Change_App.pdf — always take the current revision from the agency rather than a copy. Print this and keep it beside you while you complete theirs.

Every line, in the order you meet it

1	YOU	Owner/Lessee name and licence number	The owner who is staying on the certificate, exactly as it is printed today. Watch out: If both names are changing, this is a transfer rather than a correction, and a transfer runs on the back of the title instead.
2	YOU	Co-Owner/Lessor block	The name being added or removed, with a date of birth where somebody is being added. Watch out: The department asks for the co-owner's date of birth specifically when a name is being added. Leaving it out on an Add is a returned form.
3	YOU	The survivorship tick	One of five, and it will be printed on the corrected certificate. Watch out: Read what the certificate says now before you tick anything. Changing the legend by accident is a change nobody notices until somebody dies.
4	YOU	Add or Delete	The tick that says which direction this correction runs. Watch out: Deleting a name here does not settle who owns what between the two of you. It changes the department's record; the agreement is your own business.
5	YOU	Plate/Registration # and its expiration	From the registration certificate rather than from memory, because the department is checking that the registration matches. Watch out: This is the box that tells you whether the registration also needs correcting - and if it does, page 2 says the total is $76.00 rather than $56.00.
6	YOU	Serial Number (VIN)	Seventeen characters, matching the certificate enclosed. Watch out: The original title goes in the envelope with this form, so a mismatch is obvious - but only once it reaches Montpelier.
7	YOU	Mileage and its certification	A full disclosure, in whole numbers, with one of the three boxes ticked. Watch out: A corrected certificate is a new certificate, and it will carry whatever reading you write here for the rest of the car's life.
8	LENDER	The lienholder block	Name, address, date of lien, and a licence number and date of birth if the lender is an individual. Watch out: Write NONE across it if there is no loan. An empty block reads as an unanswered question rather than as a negative answer.
9	YOU	Page 2, the fee schedule	Not a box to fill in - the department's own arithmetic, printed so you can send the right money. Watch out: Send one payment for the exact total. A cheque short by the $20.00 registration correction holds the whole transaction, certificate included.

What gets this one rejected

- The original title not enclosed. Page 2 says the original title and the lien fee must be returned with this form.
- A name change made on the title and not on the registration. The department will not hold one half of a mismatched pair.
- One signature where the certificate names two owners. All owners are required to sign for a title, and the instruction says so twice.
- A lost original sent in as a photocopy. The department's instruction is to apply for a duplicate through the office first and then submit this form.
- More than two owners crammed onto one sheet. If there are more than two, additional notices of filing must be completed - which in practice means a VT-012.
- A lienholder signature treated as a release. The form's own note is printed beside the line: this does not constitute a lien release.
